Seeing Eye® Puppies are placed in foster families' homes at seven weeks of age to approximately 13-15 months of age. During this time, the puppy raiser teaches the pup basic commands, good house manners, takes care of its medical and physical needs and exposes the pup to many different experiences to prepare them for a life as a guide dog.

Your tenant has been approved by The Seeing Eye to foster a pup for that first important formative year of development.

By signing this agreement, you agree to the puppy living with the tenant for the time they are raising the puppy and understand the pup is not a service dog and is not with a trainer. This is a puppy bred at The Seeing Eye with the intent of it one day becoming a guide, given the proper early foundation and, once back at The Seeing Eye, the formal training required.

Your Tenant agrees to follow all the rules and regulations of the housing property.
